

Real Connections. Real Momentum.

Growth. Visibility. Partnership.

In business, relationships shape opportunity.

At ConnectW, we believe professional women thrive when they are supported, seen, and genuinely connected.

ConnectW is a nonprofit community built for women who want meaningful professional relationships without pressure, competition, or transactional expectations. Here, connection is intentional. Engagement is authentic. Growth is shared.

Our members include entrepreneurs, executives, consultants, creatives, and leaders across Central Oregon who understand that success becomes more sustainable – and more enjoyable – when women lift each other forward.

Why ConnectW Exists

We exist to create space for professional women to:

- build trusted relationships
- grow visibility and confidence
- exchange knowledge and opportunities
- develop leadership presence
- experience connection that feels energizing rather than obligatory

We do not believe in quotas or mandates.

We believe in participation that aligns with purpose.

Members engage because they want to contribute to a vibrant network that strengthens both individual businesses and the broader Central Oregon economy.

Our Vision

We envision a region where professional women feel empowered to lead, collaborate, and create lasting impact.

A Different Kind of Business Organization

Many business groups measure value through numbers.

ConnectW measures value through relationships.

There are no required referrals.

No sales tracking.

No attendance penalties.

There is an expectation of thoughtful engagement – supporting one another, showing up with generosity, and contributing to the strength of the community.

Membership is an investment in long-term professional relationships, personal confidence, and meaningful visibility in Central Oregon’s business landscape. Rather than paying for transactional leads, members invest in a network that supports sustainable growth, collaboration, and leadership development.

If you are ready to grow your network in a way that feels both strategic and human – ConnectW welcomes you.
